

Wentz-Park House

4603 Date Avenue

Located within the Date Avenue Historic District, this hip-roofed craftsman residence was built in 1910. Original owners Christopher and Olivia Wentz paid $2,050 to a local contractor to erect the house. Mr. Wentz died in 1921, and in 1923 Olivia Wentz married Charles Clarence Park, a widower who lived across the street. C.C. Park was one of La Mesa's earliest promoters; his development efforts led to the incorporation of the City in 1912.
